

Project 9: Interaction design for desktop

Overview

In this project, you'll continue the design process and sketch the screens for the desktop booking process. Depending on your case study, this will reflect booking flights, a hotel stay or a rental car. In subsequent projects, you'll convert these sketches into a prototype and wireframes.

So far you've done a lot of work understanding and articulating the problem, you're now ready to get into "solution mode" and start solving that problem.
